"Please, would you tell me -' she began, looking timidly at the Red Queen.

'Speak when you're spoken to!' the Queen sharply interrupted her.

'But if everybody obeyed that rule', said Alice, who was always ready for a little argument, 'and if you only spoke when you were spoken to, and the other person always waited for you to begin, you see, nobody would ever say anything (-)'."

Lewis Carroll

Through the Looking Glass, chapter IX.

"Very well', said Menelaus of the loud war-cry; 'but what of myself? What exactly do you wish me to do? Shall I keep with them and wait for you to join us? Or am I to run back to you when I have given them their orders?'

'Keep with them', said Agamemnon King of Men, 'or you and I may miss each other on the way - there are a great many paths across the camp (-)'! "

Homer

Iliad, book X.
